Violence Medical Unit

Medicolegal consultation for adult victims of violence

Anglais

What is it about?

The consultation service provided by the Violence Medical Unit (UMV) is aimed at any adult victim of violence, whether the violence has been perpetrated by their partner, a family member or in the community (for example, on the street or at work).

The service is run by a specially trained nursing team, which works closely with forensic examiners.

What services are available?

The consultation service offers victims:

- a place to come and be heard where they can talk about the violence they have faced.
- a clinical examination focused on the violence they have experienced, to produce forensic evidence (assault and battery report and photographs of wounds). This may help the victim to exercise their rights.
- Information about the network of partner institutions and associations.

Consultations are confidential and free of charge.

Where do consultations take place?

The Violence Medical Unit has four consultation locations in the canton of Vaud:

Lausanne, Nyon, Rennaz and Yverdon-les-Bains (see maps).
